DISTRICT COURT

Consolidated File No. 70-CV-09-19459

In re Minnesota Intoxilyzer 5000EN Source
Code Litigation in Implied Consent Cases

IMPLIED CONSENT CASE MANAGEMENT ORDER

WHEREAS, the Court has determined that this Case Management Order ("CMO") is appropriate and will be of assistance in the efficient management of this litigation; IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, that this CMO be and hereby is entered as follows:

1. Case Designation

Every filing shall contain, in its caption, the Master File Number 70-CV-09-19459. In addition, for each separate case the individual originating County file number assigned to each case must also be included in the caption for any filing which pertains to an individual case. Filings in the Master Court File shall be made as set forth in the following paragraph. Attached hereto as Exhibit A is a listing of the original file numbers and other pertinent information for each case which is presently subject to this Order.

All cases and all filings for the Master Case File herein shall be directed to Judge Jerome B. Abrams; CO: Source Code Staff; Chambers 1; 200 Fourth Avenue West; Shakopee, MN 55379-1220. Regardless of where the case was initially filed, all cases subject to the Minnesota Supreme Court's January 11, 2010 Assignment Order, A09-2109, are to comply with the terms of this CMO. All filings for the individual matters shall be filed with the Court Administrator's Office in the originating county.

2. Applicability of Order

This Case Management Order ("CMO") applies to all pre trial and contested hearing matters subject to paragraph one of the Minnesota Supreme Court's January 11, 2010 Assignment Order, A09-2109, concerning assignment of the "Source Code" issue in Implied Consent matters to the undersigned. Upon resolution of the "Source Code" issue, each case shall be returned to its originating County for such further trials or hearings as may be required.

3. Filing and Service of Papers

a. Master Service List.

Except as otherwise provided for herein, all papers or pleadings filed with the Court or served upon a party shall be served as described in this CMO on Liaison Counsel for all parties to this action who shall then serve the parties for whom they are liaising. For the purposes of economy, it shall be sufficient to state in a certificate of service that the relevant document was served on Liaison Counsel for all parties as of that date.

b. Method and Timing of Service.

Service of all pleadings, motions, deposition notices, requests for discovery and other papers required to be served upon counsel for the parties or unrepresented parties (collectively "papers") shall be affected upon the parties with copies to all persons through Liaison Counsel by electronic mail unless such party or their counsel requests service by some other means. Papers served by electronic mail shall be attached to e-mails as Adobe Acrobat (.pdf) files or Microsoft Word (.doc) files. To the extent a party is unable to effect service by electronic mail, service may be affected by facsimile, overnight mail, or regular mail. Large exhibits, affidavits, declarations, or other supplemental documents may be served by overnight mail. With respect to any papers served as described in this paragraph 3b, three (3) days shall be added to any time computed under the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure or the Minnesota General Rules of Practice for any party to respond to any such papers.

All Orders of the court in connection with this case shall be posted on the State Court's Website at <http://www.mncourts.gov/?page=3928> and shall also be transmitted to Liaison Counsel for service upon parties in accordance with the procedures set forth herein. Counsel may request service of Orders by mail, by making such a request of Christina LeClaire, Source Code Office Assistant at 952-496-8910 or Christina.LeClaire@courts.state.mn.us.

c. Filings.

The original of every pleading and motion shall be filed with this Court along with proof of service on all Liaison Counsel. The original of each filing shall be directed to the Master File; one copy shall be directed to the originating county for filing in the individual case file. A courtesy copy of every pleading, motion, or letter shall also be directed to Judge Abrams, C/O Daniel J. Sagstetter, Judicial Law Clerk. The parties are advised that for each case in which a fee may be required for filing, (e.g. motion fee, fax fee) THE FEE MUST BE PAID FOR EACH CASE IN WHICH RELIEF IS BEING SOUGHT. The fee should be submitted to Court Administration in the originating county for each individual file. No additional fee is required for the service copy directed to the Master File. The filing of discovery materials with this Court shall be governed by the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure, except that the original of all such papers which are not filed with this Court under such rules shall be kept in the offices of counsel responsible for generating such pleading, motion or discovery.

d. Correspondence.

All materials, such as correspondence, which are not due to be docketed, shall be sent directly to the chambers of Judge Abrams. Correspondence and other materials will only be accepted if they are in regards to general administrative matters. The parties shall not submit correspondence regarding substantive matters or any other substantive materials directly to the Judge assigned to the case unless requested by or authorized by Judge Abrams. The corresponding party shall contemporaneously forward a copy of all correspondence and other materials sent to Judge Abrams to all counsel and unrepresented parties by electronic mail or regular mail, as may be necessary.

e. Documents Filed with the District Court.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, any motion genuinely requiring emergency relief shall be delivered directly to the chambers of Judge Abrams. Any such document shall also be served electronically or faxed to all Liaison Counsel on the date of delivery. Proof of service shall be filed within (5) five business days thereafter.

4. Discovery

a. Avoiding Redundancy.

All parties should use their best efforts to avoid unduly duplicative submissions and propound joint discovery requests to the end of minimizing the need for any other party to perform repetitive file searches or interviews of employees and agents on the same topics.

b. Document Requests.

The parties shall not unreasonably refuse to grant extensions of time if reasonably required due to the voluminous number of documents being produced or other necessity associated with their document production.

i. Place of Production and Procedures.

Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, parties shall produce documents for inspection and copying, to the extent practicable, in the form and manner in which the documents have been maintained in the ordinary course of business or in which they previously have been maintained for production in litigation. To distinguish effectively among the documents designated for copying by the parties, each page of each document copied by any party shall bear a unique document identification number, with a unique prefix which identifies the party producing the document ("Bate Stamps" or "Bate Label"). Where documents or portions of documents are withheld, the parties shall, either through the numbering system or as otherwise provided in this Order, to the extent reasonably practicable, identify the number of pages withheld in a manner sufficient to indicate their location in the file being produced. Where part of a page is redacted, both the fact and location of the redaction, and the size or extent of the redaction shall be made clear on the face of the document.

Within a reasonable time before production, the producing party shall advise the inspecting party of the approximate volume of the documents and a general description of the types of files or other materials involved. Each party shall produce its documents at its option: (a) by production of originals as they are kept in the ordinary course of business; (b) by production of as legible as possible photocopies in the same format; or (c) by electronic means or other computerized storage. Notwithstanding these provisions, any party may request to inspect the original of any document, communication, or thing produced and the parties shall make arrangements for such inspection within ten (10) days of the request.

The location of the production shall be at the place where the documents are kept in the ordinary course of business, at the office of the producing attorney, or as otherwise agreed by the parties, provided, however, that all such document productions shall take place in the United States.

ii. Privilege Log.

If a party determines that a document responsive to a document request is subject to attorney/client privilege, attorney work product protection, or any other form of privileges or protection, the following method of handling the privileged or protected writing shall be followed. The producing party may withhold the privileged or protected document and must identify the withheld document on a privilege log which shall be provided to the requesting party and all other parties as soon as practicable, but no more than thirty (30) days following the date on which the producing party is due to commence physical production of the requested documents. If after completion of production pursuant to a particular demand for inspection the producing party discovers additional responsive documents and determines any of them to be subject to attorney/client privilege, attorney work product protection, or any other form of privilege or protection, the producing party may withhold any such privileged or protected document and must identify the withheld document on a privilege log which shall be provided to the requesting party as soon as practicable, but in no case more than thirty (30) days after the documents are discovered. Likewise, to the extent any material within a document otherwise producible contains privileged or protected information, the document shall be produced subject to redaction of the subject privileged and protected material and shall be listed on the privilege log. All privilege logs shall identify each privileged document or work product by providing the Bates Label range, date, author(s), recipient(s), the subject matter of the document withheld or information redacted and the nature of the privilege or work product protection asserted. Nothing in this section shall preclude a party from challenging a claim of privilege.

c. Confidentiality Order.

All documents and other discovery materials and testimony produced or provided in this action may be subject to the terms and provisions of the Protective Order, in the form as attached as Exhibit B hereto, which has been entered in each case.

d. Inadvertent Production of Privileged Information.

If a party inadvertently produces information or documents that it considers privileged or protected material, in whole or in part, or learns of the production of its privileged or protected material by a third-party, the party may retrieve such information or documents or parts thereof, memoranda and other material as follows:

- (1) Any assertion of inadvertent production shall be made as soon as practicable, but in any case within ten (10) days of the date the party discovers that it, its agents or attorneys, or a third-party has inadvertently produced the privileged document. The party asserting inadvertent production must provide written notice to all Liaison Counsel via electronic mail or as otherwise provided herein that the party claims the document, in whole or in part, to be privileged or protected material; in addition, such notice must state the nature of the privilege or protection and the factual basis for asserting it. No assertion of inadvertent production will be made less than thirty (30) days before trial or fourteen (14) days after service of a trial exhibit list, whichever comes later.

- (2) Upon receipt of such notice, all parties who have received copies of the document shall, within five (5) days thereafter, confer with the producing party and discuss how to resolve the issue. If no agreement is reached, the producing party may request reasonable relief from the Court, including an order that all copies of inadvertently produced documents shall be returned to the producing party, destroyed or otherwise be made available for procurement by the requesting party. Parties who received copies of inadvertently produced documents may oppose the granting of such relief on any permissible basis, including requesting an order that the inadvertently produced documents are not privileged and do not constitute protected attorney work product.
- (3) In the event that only part of a document is claimed to be privileged or protected, the party asserting inadvertent production shall furnish to all parties redacted copies of such document, removing only the part(s) thereof claimed to be privileged or protected, together with such written notice.

e. Mutual Use of Discovery.

To help avoid redundancy, all discovery served by any party inure to the benefit of and are enforceable by any other party. The settlement, release or dismissal by any means of any party propounding such discovery will not in any way limit or extinguish any other party's obligation to comply with the discovery.

5. Motion Practice

This Court shall not hear or decide matters except those under which bear upon or relate to the source code issue as assigned to the undersigned by Chief Justice Magnuson in accordance with the Order issued in Minnesota Supreme Court File Number A09-2109. Except as otherwise provided by the Court, pretrial motions in this litigation shall be governed by the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure and by the General Rules of Practice for the District Courts, provided that these latter rules are modified procedurally as follows:

- (1) Motion hearing dates shall be obtained directly from Judge Abrams' law clerk, Daniel Sagstetter;
- (2) Proposed orders for dispositive motions shall not be submitted unless specifically requested by the Court;
- (3) The moving party shall provide a certification of an attempt to meet and confer to resolve their dispute, (such as is described in Rule 115.10 of the Rules of General Practice for the District Courts) which shall be in writing and shall be filed separately at least two (2) days prior to the hearing date.

Counsel shall attempt to coordinate a hearing date and the notice of motions for hearing on a date cleared with Mr. Sagstetter.

Nothing shall restrict any party's right to apply to the Court for an order shortening or extending time or page limitations on a motion upon a showing of good cause, but only after making good faith efforts to resolve the issue among counsel.

6. Coordination Among Parties

The Court expects cooperation among the parties to coordinate motion practice, discovery, trial, or otherwise to minimize the expense in this litigation. The parties shall, to the maximum extent practicable, avoid duplicative motions, briefs and discovery (“filings”) consistent with each party’s individual interests. Since many parties have a commonality of interest as to many issues in the actions, they may serve joint discovery and file joint submissions with the Court and/or adopt, join in or support any motion made or discovery propounded by another party simply by so noting in writing.

Each party has an affirmative duty to immediately notify the involved party upon receipt of any misdirected attorney/client or other privileged communication or work product document, outside the ordinary course of discovery. Upon written request, the receiving party shall either (a) return such communication or other document, along with any and all copies, to the involved party, or (b) provide correspondence or affidavit to the involved party attesting to the fact that such communication or documents and all copies thereof have been destroyed.

7. Depositions

a. Cooperation.

The parties will use reasonable efforts to schedule depositions by agreement. To that end, the parties will participate in bi-weekly discovery conferences by telephone for the purpose of making best efforts to select mutually convenient dates and places for the initial round of depositions, identifying witnesses and arranging other matters. Unless otherwise agreed, formal notice of scheduled depositions is required. Unless exigent circumstances exist, the parties will be advised of a deposition at least ten (10) calendar days before a deposition is scheduled to commence.

b. Non-Party Depositions.

Counsel shall attempt to resolve with any non-party deponent the identification for production and subsequent production of any documents being subpoenaed. Whenever possible, this process shall be completed no later than seven (7) days before the date on which the deposition has been scheduled. All counsel shall be given notice of any documents identified for production pursuant to subpoena and shall have the right to inspect and copy, at each inspecting party's expense, whatever documents are produced by a non-party in response to a subpoena. Upon request, a party shall conduct a search of all records that may disclose the present address of any former employee and shall provide such information to the requesting party as soon as practicable. Nothing in this Order shall preclude any party, if it so chooses, from obtaining the attendance of any former employee or officer of another party for deposition by subpoena in the first instance.

c. Stipulations.

Unless otherwise noted on the record, the following stipulations shall apply to all depositions in these actions:

- (1) Any objection by a single party shall be deemed an objection by each and every similarly situated party;
- (2) Corrections to a deposition transcript shall be listed on an errata sheet, copies of which shall be served on all parties by counsel for the deponent or the deponent, within thirty (30) days following receipt of the deposition transcript;
- (3) To the extent practicable, exhibits shall be attached to the original transcript. Where the form or volume of exhibits makes attachment to the transcript impractical, the custody of such exhibits shall be maintained at the office of the attorney taking the deposition or the court reporter and such exhibits shall, after reasonable notice, be subject to inspection and copying by any party during normal business hours or by appointment;
- (4) The parties shall strive to select and retain court reporters that can produce transcripts in both manuscript and computer-readable format, other agreed format. The parties may stipulate to maintain an online repository for all depositions taken in these cases subject to limitations on accessibility as may be determined by the parties.

d. Deposition Schedule.

With respect to aged or infirm witnesses, counsel shall abide by the reasonable request of such witnesses with regard to timing and availability for deposition testimony. The parties will undertake all reasonable efforts to conduct depositions in an efficient, cost-effective and expedited

e. Attendance and Interrogation.

All parties shall be entitled to be represented at every deposition and to inquire of a deponent through their counsel. A former employee or officer may be represented at his or her deposition by counsel for the former employer. In order to facilitate necessary arrangement for attending counsel, not less than two (2) days prior to the commencement date of a deposition, any counsel intending to attend the deposition shall use its best efforts to notify the noticing party and counsel for the deponent.

f. Time and Location of Depositions.

Depositions may be held Monday through Friday, and shall commence no earlier than 9:00 a.m., and conclude no later than 5:00 p.m. local time, unless otherwise agreed between counsel or ordered by the Court. No deposition shall be scheduled for more than two (2) consecutive days absent agreement by the parties or order of the Court. A deposition may, however, proceed for a third consecutive day without agreement of the parties or order of the Court if there is at least eighteen (18) hours between the end of the second deposition day and the commencement of the third. To save expense and travel time, all sessions of the deposition of a single deponent shall, to the extent consistent with the witnesses' schedule and health and the deposition schedule, and unless otherwise agreed, proceed on successive weekdays and for the full deposition day until completion. Except as the parties may agree, no deposition shall be scheduled on the following dates: Court hearing dates, Martin Luther King, Jr.'s Birthday, President's Day, Good Friday, Passover (the first two days), Memorial Day, Independence Day (including the preceding Monday if it falls on a Tuesday or the following Friday if it falls on a Thursday), Labor Day, Rosh Hashanah (two days), Yom Kippur (two days), Columbus Day, Veterans Day, and Thanksgiving (Wednesday, Thursday and Friday). Depositions of witnesses residing outside the United States shall not be scheduled on national holidays in the witness' home country. In addition, no depositions shall be scheduled between December 21st and January 4th except upon agreement of the parties.

g. Out of State Depositions.

In order to facilitate the orderly taking of any such foreign deposition, the Court hereby orders commissions to be granted to take out of state depositions of parties and non-party witnesses, at such times and in such places as are agreed upon by counsel, such commissions to be issued to persons duly authorized by the law of the foreign state to take such testimony. This Order appointing commissions to take foreign depositions shall be applicable to all out of state depositions taken in this action, without the need for any party to file any additional motion for appointment of a commission to take any out of state deposition. The parties will provide the Court with a template order, or otherwise with other necessary appropriate orders respecting the appointment of commissions.

h. Exhibits.

To the extent practicable, all parties intending to question a witness at a deposition with respect to documents shall provide a reasonable number of copies of such documents for the use of the other parties in attendance at the deposition. Exhibits should be identified by the name of the witness and numbered consecutively in each deposition.

i. Objections.

The only objections that shall be raised at any deposition are those involving a privilege or other protection against disclosure or some matter that may be remedied at the time, such as to the form of the question, that the question has previously been asked and clearly answered, or the responsiveness of the answers. Objections on any other grounds shall be avoided and are not waived but preserved until trial. All objections shall be concise and must not suggest answers to the deponent. So called "speaking objections" are not permitted. Except as to an objection on grounds of privilege, any objection made by one party reserves that objection for all other parties and duplicate objections shall not be made.

j. Directions to Deponent Not to Answer.

Directions to a deponent not to answer are improper except on the grounds of privilege, confidentiality, or other similar protection, or to enable the party or deponent to present a motion to the Court for termination of the deposition or protection such as under Minnesota Rule of Procedure 26.03. When privilege, confidentiality or other protection is claimed, the witness shall nevertheless answer questions relevant to the existence, extent or waiver of the privilege, confidentiality, or other protection.

k. Immediate Presentation of Deposition Disputes.

Consistent with discovery concepts and objectives set forth above, if disputes arise during a deposition which the attorneys cannot resolve by agreement and which, if not promptly decided, will critically disrupt the discovery program or court-imposed schedules, the parties may submit the matter orally by telephone to the undersigned if available.

8. Avoidance of Unnecessary Duplication

Cooperation and communication among parties as ordered herein shall not constitute the waiver of any applicable privilege or be construed as evidence of wrongful conduct. In the event that any party is in genuine doubt about the legal effect of the communication and cooperation ordered herein, such party may seek the Court's clarification of the party's responsibilities before proceeding.

9. No Waiver of Privilege Due to Joint Efforts

Communications in connection with this case between and among counsel for the parties and/or their clients, including the exchange of documents and information, shall be deemed subject to the attorney/client privilege, work product protection, and any other applicable privilege or protection to the same extent as if the communication had taken place within one law firm or between one law firm and one client represented by that firm. Protection afforded by this Order will survive the conclusion of this litigation and the dismissal of any party from this action. If a party withdraws from any cooperative litigation efforts with other parties, previous communications among the withdrawing party and such other parties and all work product shared by or with the withdrawing party with respect to this action, will remain subject to any attorney/client privilege, work product protection, or other privilege that attached at the time the communications were made or the work product was shared. Any such withdrawing party is under a duty not to reveal information obtained through such cooperative efforts.

10. Rules and Procedures

This CMO supersedes any provision of the Minnesota Rules of Civil procedure and General Rules of Practice for the District Court that are in conflict with the provisions of this CMO.

11. CMO Binding on Subsequently Added Parties

Any new party to this consolidated action after the date the CMO is entered up to and including July 1, 2010, shall be served with a copy of this CMO by Liaison Counsel and any subsequent Case Management Orders. Any such new party will be bound by this CMO and all other Case Management Orders unless it files a motion for relief with the Court within ten (10) days after service of this CMO and other case management order upon it. Upon the addition of any party to this action, the party adding the new party shall serve a copy of this CMO on counsel for the new party within five (5) days of the date of receiving notice of the identity of the new party's counsel.

12. Liaison Counsel

In recognition of the large numbers of prosecutors, petitioners, and defendants in this action and to promote sufficient communication between and among the parties and the Court, the parties will appoint counsel to serve as Liaison Counsel, designated as follows:

Subject to the right of any party to present individual or divergent positions, the Liaison Counsel is vested by this Court with the following responsibilities and duties:

- (1) Communicate with opposing Liaison Counsel, communicate with all other counsel and unrepresented parties in its respective group and receive and forward orders, notices and correspondence from this Court and the Court Administrator in any matter pertaining to this action to counsel and unrepresented parties in its respective group;

- (2) Promptly forward to all counsel and unrepresented parties for its respective group copies of all documents from the Court or the Court Administrator, not otherwise provided to them, report to all counsel and unrepresented parties in the represented group on all meetings and communications with this Court or other Liaison Counsel;
- (3) Organize and schedule meetings of counsel for joint action;
- (4) Coordinate common discovery;
- (5) Initiate action by the Court to remedy disputes among the parties;
- (6) Participate in conference calls with this Court to resolve disputes and scheduling matters;
- (7) Maintain a current copy of a service list for its respective group and make a copy of this list available to the Court upon request; and
- (8) Perform such other duties as may be expressly authorized by further order of this Court or agreed to by counsel.

Liaison Counsel shall not be deemed to speak for, act for, or bind any particular litigant or group of litigants absent express authority provided by such litigant or group. All counsel of record shall have an opportunity to present to this Court their respective views and opinions as to matters before this Court. The Liaison Counsel shall not be liable for any actions arising from their respective roles as such and this Court shall act to remedy any inadvertence as appropriate.

Additional or replacement Liaison Counsel may be identified upon appropriate motion to the Court. The moving party shall be required to explain the need underlying the request for additional or replacement Liaison Counsel.

13. Pro Hac Vice Admission of Attorneys

Any lawyer admitted or currently licensed to practice before a Court of general jurisdiction in any state in the United States and who is specifically associated with a currently licensed Minnesota lawyer may be deemed admitted pro hac vice to practice before the Court in this litigation only. Other than those attorneys admitted pro hac vice prior to the date of issuance of this Order, attorneys may be deemed admitted pro hac vice upon completion of the following:

A. An Affidavit Setting Forth:

- (1) His or her full name and non-Minnesota business address;
- (2) His or her date and place of each state licensure;
- (3) A representation that the affiant's license to practice law is current and is not under revocation, suspension, restriction or limitation in any other state of admission or in the federal courts, and that the affiant is an attorney in good standing in all states of licensure;
- (4) A representation that the affiant is, or will promptly become, familiar with all applicable Minnesota court rules, procedures and requirements of professional conduct, and will follow and abide by such rules, procedures and requirements.

B. A Notice of Pro Hac Vice Representation Setting Forth:

- (1) The non-Minnesota lawyer's full name and non-Minnesota business address, telephone number, facsimile number, and e-mail address;
- (2) The name, address, telephone number, facsimile number and e-mail address of the Minnesota lawyer or law firm with whom the attorney will associate for purposes of this litigation;
- (3) The name of each party whom the attorney will represent.

Such affidavit and notice of pro hac vice representation shall be filed with the Court Administrator of the originating county of the case within the First Judicial District. Notice of pro hac vice representation shall be served upon all counsel on the Master Case List.

14. Status Conferences and Scheduling

a. Status Conferences.

General status conferences shall be held at 1:30 p.m. every other Friday as needed from April 30, 2010 until no longer needed or as otherwise directed by the Court. The principal purpose of the general status conference is to discuss and resolve administrative issues common to all parties. Issues that affect only specific parties and that have no significant implications for other parties will be calendared for a separate hearing date or, if the status conference agenda permits, for 2:30 p.m. on a status conference date.

Not later than the preceding Friday before the status conference, Liaison Counsel shall confer and shall determine whether or not a status conference for the following Friday will be necessary. they shall promptly notify the Court the conference can be cancelled and notify the remaining parties of the cancellation. If Liaison Counsel decides to proceed with the status conference or counsel or an unrepresented party of its respective group expresses a need for a status conference, then the requesting party(ies) shall prepare a common agenda and shall notify all other parties and the Court thereof not later than the close of the business day on the Monday preceding the conference date of the agenda.

b. Scheduling.

In recognition of the complexity of the issues before the Court, the Court will discuss the progress of the parties in discovery and other matters at the status conferences and upon application of the parties jointly or unilaterally may amend or modify the scheduling order from time to time.

The following dates and deadlines shall apply to all actions subject to this CMO:

July 1, 2010	Petitioner's/Defendant's Expert Disclosures
July 1, 2010	Non Expert Discovery Ends
July 1, 2010	Final Date for Adding Cases to Consolidation
August 13, 2010	State/Prosecution Expert Disclosures
August 16, 2010	Expert Discovery/Depositions (if any) begins
September 7, 2010	All Non Source Code Issues Completed in Consolidated Cases
September 20, 2010	Expert Discovery Ends
September 27, 2010	Final Hearing on Source Code

Exhibit B

STATE OF MINNESOTA

DISTRICT COURT

COUNTY OF _____

JUDICIAL DISTRICT
Case Type: Implied Consent

Court File No. _____

Petitioner,

vs.

PROTECTIVE ORDER

Commissioner of Public Safety,

Respondent.

WHEREAS, the U.S. District Court for the District of Minnesota has entered a Consent Judgment and Permanent Injunction regarding access to the source code used in the operation of the Intoxilyzer 5000EN ("Source Code"), the breath-alcohol testing instrument used to enforce the driving while impaired ("DWI") and implied consent laws in Minnesota. This Consent Judgment and Permanent Injunction requires issuance of a Protective Order as a precondition to obtaining access to the Source Code; and

WHEREAS, this Court has ordered that the Source Code be made available for inspection and review or has found the Source Code to be relevant or material in the above-captioned case; and

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

1. As used in this Protective Order, the listed terms have the following meanings:

"Attorneys" means counsel of record in this matter;

"Confidential" documents and information are documents or information designated Confidential pursuant to Paragraph 2 herein; and

"Source Code" refers specifically to the Source Code for the Intoxilyzer 5000EN used in the State of Minnesota.

2. A Party may designate any document "Confidential," including interrogatory responses, other discovery responses, or transcripts, based on a good faith belief that the document constitutes or contains trade secrets or other confidential information. Source Code is hereby designated as Confidential, except for that portion of the Source Code assigned and delivered to the State pursuant to the Settlement Agreement between the State and CMI dated June 1, 2009.

3. All Confidential documents and information shall be used solely for the purpose of the above-captioned matter, or as otherwise permitted by the federal Consent Judgment and Permanent Injunction.. No person receiving such documents or information shall, directly or indirectly, use, transfer, disclose, or communicate in any way Confidential documents or information to any person other than those specified in Paragraph 4 herein and the federal Consent Judgment and Permanent Injunction.

4. Access to any Confidential document or information shall be limited to:

- (a) The Court and its staff;
- (b) Attorneys of record and their law firms;
- (c) Persons shown on the face of the document to have authored or received it;
- (d) Court reporters retained to transcribe testimony;
- (e) The Parties to this case;
- (f) Outside vendors (limited to professional copy services);
- (g) Outside independent persons who are retained by or otherwise assist a Party or its Attorneys to provide technical or expert services and/or give testimony in this action, and who are not, and have not been, employed by (as an employee, agent, or consultant) or otherwise affiliated with, any manufacturer of breath alcohol testing instruments within the preceding twenty-four (24) months.

5. Any outside independent person (as defined in Paragraph 4(g) herein) who receives access to the Source Code or other Confidential information shall execute a Non-Disclosure Agreement in the form prescribed in Paragraph 3(c) of the federal Consent Judgment and Permanent Injunction before receiving access to the Source Code or Confidential Information. In addition, any Attorney or Party (as defined in Paragraphs 4(b) and (e) herein) who receives access to the Source Code shall also execute a Non-Disclosure Agreement in the form prescribed in Paragraph 3(c) of the federal Consent Judgment and Permanent Injunction before receiving access to the Source Code. Receipt of access to the Source Code pursuant to this Protective Order shall not constitute or convey any right, title, license, or other interest in any portion of the Source Code.

6. Non-parties producing documents in the course of this action may also designate documents as "Confidential" subject to the same protections and constraints as the Parties to this action. A copy of this Protective Order shall be served along with any subpoena served in connection with this action. All documents and information produced by such non-parties shall be treated as "Confidential" for a period of 15 days from the date of their production, and during that period any Party may designate such documents as "Confidential" pursuant to the terms of this Protective Order.

7. Any testimony or written report that contains Confidential documents or information will receive the same protections afforded to Confidential documents themselves. Confidentiality designations for testimony shall be made on the record or, where appropriate, by written notice to the other Party. It shall be the responsibility of the Party who noticed the deposition, called the witness, or seeks to introduce the evidence, to designate such testimony or information as Confidential. The testimony of any witness (or any portion of such testimony) that contains Confidential information shall be given only in the presence of persons who are qualified to have access to such information pursuant to Paragraph 4 herein.

8. Any Party or non-party that inadvertently fails to identify documents or information as Confidential in accordance with this Protective Order shall, upon discovery of its oversight, promptly provide written notice of the error and substitute appropriately designated documents or information. Any Party receiving notice of improperly designated documents or information shall act immediately to retrieve such documents or information from persons not entitled to receive such documents or information and shall return the improperly designated documents or information to the producing Party.

9. Any document designated Confidential or containing Confidential information that is filed with this Court, including any expert report, shall be filed under seal. Any Confidential information shall be redacted from such document or report before it is made publicly available.

10. No action taken in accordance with this Protective Order shall be construed to be a waiver of any claim or defense in the action or of any position as to discoverability or admissibility of any evidence in the case.

11. The obligations imposed by this Protective Order shall survive the termination of the above-captioned matter.

12. Any violation or breach of the terms and conditions set forth in this Protective Order shall be grounds for any appropriate sanctions available under the law.
